

THE DUSTBOWL DADDIES

Fusing alt-country harmonies, indie-pop melodies, with roots-rock stomp and poetic lyricism, The Dustbowl Daddies' Boom and Bust Economies of Love embodies that inclusive, old-time musical spirit to bring people together.

With two albums to their name - The Longest Day of the Year (2015) and Boom and Bust Economies of Love (2021) — both a result of the live chemistry of the Little Bullhorn Studio in Ottawa, and the musical alchemy of producer Dave Draves.

The Dustbowl spirit is a celebration that despite all the suffering and injustice in the world, people still join together to do incredible, generous and beautiful things. As a small way of recognizing this, the band donates most of the proceeds from their shows for the amazing charitable organizations doing work around Ottawa, including the Ottawa Rape Crisis Centre, Ottawa Inner City Health, Families of Sisters of Spirit, and the Ottawa Food Bank.
